A year in the life of a painter

Circus

Life is a Circus
I am balancing,
On Earths colored Ball,
Shaking on my legs,
Untill I fall, Until I Fall.

Dear art fan,

In the year 2019 I started an experiment: painting in a sketchbook, with acrylic paint. All painting should be 15 x 20 cm. I have a large urge to paint, but I thought that by painting in the book I was forced to paint more slowly. In reality the production went faster as expected, by march I had painted already over 10 painted works in the book. A new thought arose:” Why not make a year book with a painting each week?” I went to work and finished 54 works that year.

The paintings reflect my thoughts, more or less in that year. The beginning of 2019 was ok, we had a nice party for my wife 's birthday and a nice holiday with family. Doom, alas was just around the corner, my wife got Multiple Myelom and had numerous treatments. The book was made between hospital visits, various emotions raced through my head and sometimes are reflected in the work.

I hope you will enjoy the book.

Greetings,

A.Schreuder
